QUIZZERS

By Geoff Bamber

Just when Keith Smedley is looking forward to the pub quiz that he lives for, the arrival of daughter Alison's girlfriend's mother, Stella, throws him off his stride. Keith and Stella have a historical 'connection' Keith would rather gloss over, particularly when wife Lorna is around. Throw in womanising best friend Ross, highly-strung interior designer Binny, ex-con Rat and a misconception that Keith has arranged a contract killing and the quiz evening looks unlikely to go to plan!

Ockley Dramatic Society presents a full length comedy play, including a two course supper of a cold collation and a dessert.

At the Village Hall Ockley on:

Thursday 13th June, Friday 14th June, Saturday 15th June

Doors open and main course served at 7.30 p.m. Desert served in the interval. Curtain up 8p.m. Bar available.
